

Available Trees for Spring 2011

Lost Nation Orchard @ Heartsong Farm
859 Lost Nation Road, Groveton, NH 03582

These trees have been in the ground here on our farm for three years and are all 4 to 6 feet high. The rootstock we use is Bud.118, which is a super-hardy, vigorous Russian root that will produce a precocious (early-to-bear), free-standing 85% size tree. Feel free to ask me about the traits of these selected varieties below, as the descriptions here are much too brief. Ripening dates given are for the Zone 4. We are taking paid orders now to receive these trees here at the farm in late April. Michael will contact you when the ground is ready for digging come spring and thus the trees can be picked up for transplanting to your place. The price is $30 a tree. Send a check made out to 'Heartsong Farm" ASAP to reserve your selections. I'll let you know if a substitution needs to be made.

Variety	Available	Your request	Notes
Honeygold	2		A Golden Delicious type for northern New England, mid-October
Bonkers	3		Scab-resistant cultivar, originally NY 73334-35, puckery, late September
Sandow	3		seedling of Northern Spy; red fruit with juicy, crisp flesh; mid-October
Keepsake	3		Minnesota parent of Honeycrisp, mid-October, and yes, a great keeper
Cortland	4		New England's favorite pie apple, nice tart balance, late September
Spartan	1		Dark purple Mac cousin, more snap, complex sweetness, mid-October
St. Edmund's Russet	2		Beautiful English russet, so like a pear in flavor, tender, mid-September
Topaz	4		Disease –resistant variety from Germany... we're waiting for first fruit
Sweet Sixteen, Macoun, Roxbury Russet, Davey, Dudley, William's Pride, and Brock	1 each		Ask me, okay?

2011 Regraft Special

There are 14 roots on which the original graft did not take... therefore I grafted anew last spring. First year growth varies on these "new trees" between 2 to 3 feet. The root systems are extensive so these will take off in the coming growing season. The price is $15 per regraft. Varieties available are two Secor, four Zestar, six Spartan, and a single Adams Pearmain.
